Commvault And NetApp Expand Partnership To Offer Powerfully Simple Backup And Recovery Solutions From NetApp And NetApp Channel Partners

October 9, 2018

-- Commvault Complete™ Backup & Recovery Software for Midmarket and Enterprise Customers Now Available Directly from NetApp and Integrated Across All NetApp Storage Platforms --

TINTON FALLS, N.J. and NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Commvault (NASDAQ: CVLT), a recognized global leader in backup, recovery, the cloud and data management across any hybrid environment, today announced that Commvault Complete ™Backup & Recovery Software is now available for purchase directly from NetApp and NetApp channel partners. Tightly-integrated and a primary backup solution across the NetApp storage portfolio, Commvault Complete ™Backup & Recovery software provides more features and functionality than previous offerings for any environment, whether it be on-premise, hybrid or in the cloud. The announcement was made today in Nashville at Commvault GO 2018, the company's annual customer conference.

Today's announcement expands on the close technology collaboration between Commvault and NetApp to enable NetApp customers to simplify end-to-end backup and recovery operations. By becoming a full resell partner, both NetApp and their channel partners are able to offer a NetApp solution that includes Complete ™Backup & Recovery software. As a result, NetApp is aligning Commvault's leading backup and recovery solution with NetApp's successful and innovative Data Fabric, enabling customers to simplify snapshot management and backup & recovery, and easily extend data protection to the cloud.

"Commvault's Complete ™Backup & Recovery software aligns with our Data Fabric approach to give organizations unprecedented access and control of their data to help pursue business priorities and safeguard key information and assets," said Joel Reich, Executive Vice President and General Manager, Storage Systems and Software business unit, NetApp. "Our relationship with Commvault helps NetApp deliver the most modern data products and services to customers and channel partners."

Commvault believes that its Commvault Complete ™Backup & Recovery software provides the industry's single most fully-featured and comprehensive backup and recovery solution for the progressive enterprise. Updated with innovations that incorporate artificial intelligence behaviors that automatically learn and adapt to help make IT operations simple and streamlined, the new packaging portfolio is better suited than ever to meet the rapidly evolving business needs of todays' digital organizations.

Commvault's products are now easier to buy, install and manage than ever before, helping customers to achieve more efficient IT operations and gain more value from their data.

"Together with NetApp, we are helping enterprise customers reduce IT and data management costs and complexity by eliminating the need for multiple software and hardware products or single-purpose tools," said Owen Taraniuk, Head of Worldwide Partnerships and Market Development at Commvault. "Our combined solutions help make infrastructure more efficient and help customers manage storage growth. Commvault can seamlessly enable data recovery and offsite data management, turning data protection into a function that serves the business.  This expanded relationship is continuing evidence of the success and momentum coming from Commvault's shift to a partner-led strategy."
