

Commvault Earns CRN® 5-Star Partner Rating and Recognition on Storage 100 List

April 16, 2020

TINTON FALLS, N.J., April 16, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Commvault (NASDAQ: CVLT), a recognized global enterprise software leader in the management of data across cloud and on-premises environments, today announced two new industry recognitions from CRN®, a brand of The Channel Company – a 5-Star rating in CRN's 2020 Partner Program Guide, for the seventh year in a row, and a coveted spot on the first ever 2020 Storage 100 list from the go-to resource for channel news.

The annual Partner Program Guide is the definitive listing of the most rewarding partner programs from technology companies that provide products and services through the IT channel. The Channel Company's research team analyzed each vendor's partner program, scoring the companies based on several factors, including program investments, partner profitability and training, and sales support. Based on that assessment, Commvault's partner program stands among the elite technology suppliers in the IT channel, providing maximum value and support for solution providers.

"With the speed and complexity of technology today, solution providers need partners that can keep pace and support their growing business," said Bob Skelley, CEO of The Channel Company. "CRN's Partner Program Guide features insight into the strengths and benefits of each company's program to identify those that truly support and drive positive change within the IT channel."

Commvault's global partner network consists of key industry alliances with market leaders, solution and service providers, and technology partners, coming together with a shared goal of helping customers store, protect, manage and use their data. Whether using an on-prem, hybrid, or private/public cloud storage model, Commvault teams with its partners to provide complete critical data backup and recovery support.

"We are honored to be recognized by CRN for our contributions to the partner community, helping drive product portfolio innovation, engagement with and across our partner ecosystem and profitable growth" said Mercer Rowe, Vice President, Global Partner Organization, Commvault. "We have spent more than two decades building a strong and dedicated network of global partners to successfully deliver intelligent data management solutions to customers of all sizes around the globe. These prestigious acknowledgements further support the importance of the Commvault Advantage and our joint mission in making customers data ready."

Selected by a panel of respected CRN editors, the Storage 100 list acknowledges leading storage vendors who provide transformative, cutting-edge solutions. It will become an annual reference for solution providers who are seeking out vendors offering superior storage solutions in areas such as software-defined storage, data protection, data management and storage components.

Added Skelley, "CRN's Storage 100 list is our newest recognition of the best of the best in storage innovation. These companies are on the forefront of storage technology advancements, delivering state-of-the-art solutions that are built for the future. We acknowledge and congratulate them for their investment in R&D, engineering and innovation. Their efforts enable solution providers to offer the best technology for their customers."

The 2020 Partner Program Guide and 2020 Storage 100 list will be featured in the April issue of CRN.
