Commvault Honors Partners Advancing AI Recovery at SHIFT 2026 Nashville

November 10, 2026

Everpure, CDW, SoftwareOne, NCS, and Yotta named global and regional Partners of the Year

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Commvault (NASDAQ: CVLT), delivering continuous recovery for the AI era, today announced the winners of its second annual Commvault Fearless Awards, recognizing partners that help customers protect critical data, embrace AI recovery, deliver cloud excellence, and advance cyber readiness with joint customers.

"AI ambition is only as powerful as the resilience behind it. Customers need partners who can turn that ambition into real-world protection and recovery," said Brian Lanigan, Chief Partner Officer, Commvault. "This year's winners demonstrate what's possible when deep partner expertise and Commvault technology come together: stronger protection, greater resilience, and the confidence to recover."

Announced live at SHIFT 2026, this year's top Partner of the Year recipients, by region, include:

- Global Partner of the Year: Everpure
- AMER Partner of the Year: CDW
- EMEA Partner of the Year: SoftwareOne
- APAC Partner of the Year: NCS
- India Partner of the Year: Yotta AI, Cloud, & Data Centres

"We're proud to be named Commvault's Global Partner of the Year. Working closely together, we combine secure storage with protection and clean recovery to help customers safeguard the data powering AI and strengthen recovery readiness," said Ricardo Moreno, VP, Global Partner Sales, Everpure.

"Being named Commvault's AMER Partner of the Year reflects the impact of our partnership in helping customers protect critical data and strengthen recovery readiness across hybrid environments. At CDW, we're helping customers turn AI ambition into outcomes by building the resilient technology foundation they need to move forward with confidence," said Karl Schulz, Vice President of Product and Partner Management, CDW.

"We're truly honored to be named Commvault Fearless EMEA Partner of the Year 2026," said Nunzio Panto, EMEA Services Leader, SoftwareOne. "Commvault's technology helps us deliver exceptional customer value, but it's the amazing people, their dedication, and support, who make this success possible. A big thank you for this recognition and our fantastic partnership!"

"We're honoured to be named Commvault's APAC Partner of the Year," said Lim Keong, Chief Technologist, NCS. "Together, we help organisations bridge AI innovation and cyber resilience, combining our deep services expertise with Commvault's advanced recovery technologies to keep critical data protected, resilient, and recoverable."

"As Indian enterprises put AI at the center of their business, where their data lives and how fast it can be recovered have become board-level questions," said Sashishekhar Panda, Executive Vice President, Cloud & Media Services, Yotta AI, Cloud, & Data Centres. "With regulations raising the bar, Yotta and Commvault provide sovereign infrastructure with clean, trusted recovery built in. This recognition reflects our shared commitment to keeping India's data protected, compliant, and resilient on Indian soil."
