— CommVault best in class for total protection of Microsoft SharePoint Products and Technologies —

Bellevue, WA and Oceanport, NJ — June 1, 2006 —CommVault®, a provider of Unified Data Management™ solutions, today announced Galaxy Backup & Recovery has received the Editors' Choice Award for SharePoint backup and recovery from WindowsITPro Magazine. CommVault was judged superior to offerings from Symantec to win the award.

In a May 2006 article comparing leading backup and recovery solutions for Microsoft SharePoint Products and Technologies, CommVault garnered a total rating of 4.5 out of 5 points, earning kudos for its granular recovery and disaster recovery and business continuity capabilities. Citing CommVault's power and the completeness of its solution, the report noted CommVault's straightforward installation, support for backups to SAN and NAS environments, and ability to perform Synthetic Full backups. The article can be viewed at http://www.windowsitpro.com/Windows/Articles/ArticleID/49794/pg/2/2.html.

"Microsoft is pleased to work with CommVault to provide products that meet the needs of our mutual customers for enterprise-strength backup and recovery," said Robert Bernard, General Manager of the Global ISV Group at Microsoft. "We support CommVault for SharePoint Products and Technologies in our commitment to deliver innovative solutions that combine the strengths of Microsoft and CommVault."

"We're proud to receive this recognition from the experts at WindowsITPro Magazine," said Randy De Meno, Chief Microsoft Evangelist, CommVault. "The Editors' Choice Award for our SharePoint capabilities is an independent, third-party corroboration of the business value of CommVault technology. We rapidly adopted Microsoft SharePoint Technologies as an 'Application Integrated' solution to meet the needs of many of our customers, who benefit from the fact that our SharePoint solution is part of CommVault's QiNetix architecture."
