News Facts

- Who: Craig Halliwell, Business Development Manager within CommVault's Cloud Strategy and Alliances Group, will present at EMC World Las Vegas 2011, taking place May 9-12, 2011, at the Venetian Hotel, Las Vegas, NV.
- What: "Modernizing Data Protection with CommVault Simpana Software and EMC Atmos"

Halliwell will discuss how enterprise customers are modernizing data protection with CommVault Simpana software and EMC Atmos to reduce costs and improve operational efficiency. Learn how CommVault® Simpana® 9 and EMC Atmos deliver archival to cloud and remote office backup with integrated source side data deduplication and encryption - all managed from a single console.

- When: Wednesday, May 11, 2011, 4:30 - 5:00pm PDT
- Where: EMC Atmos Cloud Pavilion Theater
- From a single console, CommVault Simpana 9 software seamlessly extends local backup and archive to a tier of EMC Atmos-based cloud storage. Virtually unlimited storage capacity from our integrated cloud storage partners helps users dramatically reduce costs and operational complexity while improving long-term compliance. With its single-platform, modular approach to data management and integrated features like deduplication and encryption, Simpana software is very efficient at moving backup and archive data across a network for long-term cloud storage solutions. Integrated alerting, reporting, and data verification functionality help ensure that data has safely reached the cloud--without the risk associated with manual scripting or standalone gateway appliances.
