"It always brings me tremendous pride when customers chose Commvault over competitors' offerings during a time when data is at the center of everything," said N. Robert Hammer, chairman, president and CEO of Commvault. "Our continuous delivery of market leading innovations sets us apart from our competition and is a testament to our unwavering commitment and ability to help customers derive the most value and insight out of data, resulting in better business outcomes and increased IT efficiencies."

The continued global customer momentum in Q3 FY 2017 follows Commvault's recent announcement that it will be hosting its next annual customer conference, Commvault GO 2017, on November 6-8, 2017 in Washington D.C. Building on the overwhelming success of its sold out conference in November, the event will bring together industry thought leaders, customers, partners and Commvault executives to discuss market forces and technology innovations – including the emergence of software defined storage, the continued rise of Big Data, the move towards compute in the cloud, data protection market dynamics and showcase new Commvault solutions.
