"It is with great excitement that we end our 2017 fiscal year on a high note with strong momentum and success in helping customers make their digital transformation a reality with Commvault's modern, holistic data management architecture as the centerpiece for this strategy," said N. Robert Hammer, chairman, president and CEO of Commvault. "This customer growth gives us strong momentum heading into the new fiscal year and our upcoming customer conference, where optimizing digital strategies and delivering on compliance requirements through holistic data management will take center stage."

Today's announcement comes on the heels of two successful customer deployments announced by Commvault last week – 1) Polskie Górnictwo Naftowe i Gazownictwo SA (PGNiG) – one of Europe's largest natural gas exploration, production and distribution conglomerates – implemented the Commvault Data Platform to simplify GDPR compliance and improve cost efficiency and access, while reducing business risk and 2) Montgomery County Memorial Hospital (MCMH) in Red Oak, Iowa deployed the Commvault Data Platform to simplify data management and preserve clinical, patient and operational data.

Commvault's global customer growth in Q4 FY 2017 positions the company with added momentum heading into its next annual customer conference, Commvault GO 2017, on November 6-8, 2017 in Washington D.C. Building on the overwhelming success of its sold out conference in October of 2016, the event will bring together industry thought leaders, customers, partners and Commvault executives to discuss market forces and technology innovations to protect & use data to drive digital business transformation, optimize cloud strategies, and deliver on GDPR requirements today.
